Welcome speech EMC 2024

Distinguished guests and participants,

On behalf of the Programme Committee, I am pleased to welcome you to the XI International Economy and Management Conference hosted by the Graduate School of Management at Saint Petersburg University. We are thrilled to facilitate yet another exceptional conference of the highest caliber.

This year's theme, "Economy, Management, Finance: Sustainability and Efficiency in the Period of Turmoil," addresses critical issues that resonate deeply within contemporary business discourse, garnering significant interest from both academic circles and industry professionals. We received a wealth of outstanding submissions this year, leading to a diverse agenda that includes esteemed scholars from countries such as Algeria, Bahrain, Bangladesh, Belgium, China, Colombia, Ireland, India, Russia, Turkey, and South Africa. Participants from across Russia, from Kaliningrad to Vladivostok, enrich our gathering. This conference serves as an invaluable platform for networking with new colleagues, establishing scientific connections, and nurturing future research collaborations.

We are privileged to present four distinguished keynote speakers this year: Professor Zoran Hrubisic from the Belgrade Banking Academy in Serbia, Professor Weihua Fang from Beijing Normal University in China, Professor Qian Sun from Fudan University School of Management in China, and Associate Professor Victoria Dobrynskaya from the School of Finance at HSE University in Moscow. Together, they will contribute to our plenary session titled "Navigating Crises: A Holistic Approach to International Diversification, Climate Risk, and Economic Value Dynamics." We hope you find both the conference and your stay in Saint Petersburg enjoyable.

Additionally, we encourage all attendees to engage in associated events such as master classes, sessions with the Russian Management Journal, and various social activities.

I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to all members of the Programme Committee and conference staff for their invaluable support in developing the EMC 2024 program.

Thank you for being here and enjoy the conference!

Elena Rogova, Professor, GSOM SPbU,
